

The Road to Resilience

Resilient organizations, voluntary groups, and communities become more durable through four resilience practices. As you travel the road to resilience, Tenacious Change offers support and strategies (training, workshops, consultation, and coaching engagements) to aid and support you along the way.

1) Looking Back

Inquiring about, studying, and learning important lessons from the past.

What We Do

Organizational Study & Analysis to understand clearly how things currently work and how they could work better.

What We Do

Adaptive Strategy Planning™ to co-create a flexible strategic plan which can be quickly and easily adapted in changing contexts and circumstances.

2) Looking Ahead

Preparing for your future by anticipating and planning for what comes next.

What We Do

Logic modeling, implementation and operational planning, training and support in movement building through Begin With Community™ and Strategic Controversy Management™.

3) Responding

Taking action based on what has been learned and forecasted.

What We Do

Developmental Evaluation which provides actionable feedback for continuous quality improvement and to inform talent management strategies that create a leadership and succession pipeline.

4) Minding

Monitoring, assessing changes, reviewing progress, and adapting as needed.
